Two Young Men Die In Truck Collision

ROY KOCH AND ERVIN NESTER MEET INSTANT DEATH WHEN TRUCKS CRASH IN DUST FOG.

Roy Koch, 22, of Hondo and Ervin Nester, 25, of D'Hanis were instantly killed in a head-on crash of two gravel trucks about 2 o'clock

Tuesday afternoon, June 13, 1939, on Highway 90 near D'Hanis. The two young men were employed as drivers of the trucks for hauling gravel in the construction of a section of Highway No. 90 between D'Hanis and Sabinal. Nester had just pulled out of the gravel pit with a full load while Koch was returning for a re-load. The trucks met head-on at a fast speed, and it is believed that the sight of each driver was obscured by a heavy fog of dust raised by a passing car.

Medical aid was summoned but the men were pronounced dead.

Both were badly crushed by the terrific impact and the trucks were demolished. Justice of the Peace Alf.

Zinsmeyer rendered a coroner's verdict of accidental death in the case.

Roy Koch is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koch, of Hondo and several brothers and sisters, while Ervin Nester is survived by his wife, the former Clara Batot, of D'Hanis, his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Henry Nester of D'Hanis and several brothers and sisters.

The bodies of the tragic victims were held at the Horger funeral home here in Hondo pending funeral arrangements. Funeral services for Koch were held here and for young Nester in D'Hanis Thursday morning, June 15th., under the auspices of the Catholic Church. Obituaries of the unfortunate young men appear elsewhere in this paper.

QUIHI NOTES

Now then, whatsoever God hath said unto thee, do. Gen. 31:16.

"Return unto the land of thy fathers . . . and I will be with thee."

That was the advice given to Jacob by the Lord. That was the only solution of the problem that was worrying the household of Laban and Jacob with his numerous family.

A compromise seemed to be out of question. The open slander and defamation on the part of Laban's sons might have been ignored, since the community knew the actual facts and, most likely, also knew the disreputable character of the cheap assailants and their only motive, avarice, greediness. A noble mind that makes its harmony and peace depend on its peace with God and not on the changing facts and fancies and faces that come with the morrow, such a mind is strong enough to bear the sharp thrusts and violent utterances of censure, if unfounded, with fair evenness of temper and go on with the duties of the day just the same. In this case, however, the going on was made impossible after

Lot was caught in the meshes of the slander-net and was deprived of his own thinking and judgment and sense of justice. He had become the chief obstructionist to all the efforts of Jacob. It was an undeclared war between the two households, with no peace in sight. Either open war to the last trench and the reckless destruction of morale, life and values —the grand solution in our age of enlightenment—or the giving in and the peaceful parting of the ways.

The latter involved in the decree of the Lord: Return unto the land of thy fathers, etc. —This injunction was obviously direct and clear and urgent. Should he not have engineered the exodus without hesitation and delay? A simple matter for a single individual, a bachelor, a tramp, a globe-trotter. Here was a man with a large, uncommonly large, family. Would the wives consent to the going, cutting the ties with the homefolks and the homestead? Might they be secret allies of their father and their brothers? Any back-firing, opposition, division of sentiments, any doubts about the probabilities in Jacob's home of which they knew mighty little or had even heard about that ferocious brother Eau still waiting, with dagger in hand, for the return of his younger brother to settle an old account? Would they muster up enough courage to stand the inevitable friction, irritation and maybe open combat when the whole plan would leak out?

Blood is often thicker than the waters of matrimonial relations. Thousands of families sever their ties among themselves, and wife and husband separate, when a choice is to be made between father or mother and a "strange" husband, when religious differences arise and both forget that "a man shall leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife" and vice versa. And who will count the marriages going on the rocks, when war breaks out and wife and husband, of different nationalities, are guided more by their nationalistic attachment and preference than by the love and fidelity they have vowed to each other? —A family council in the house of Jacob was in order to ascertain facts and their consent or dissent. A washday is hardly the most pleasant day, not even with oxydol and drest and rin-sod and other highly touted—and every word paid for—soap powders.
A family wash is usually downright filthy. Sometimes a necessary evil.
Jacob explains his stand and observations. "Your father's countenance is changed—you know with all my power I have served him—your father has deceived me, changed my wages ten times—God hath taken away the cattle from him—I have been advised by the angel of the Lord to get out of this land and go home." And the two wives are outspoken and harsh: "Is there yet any portion or inheritance for us—are we not counted as strangers? He, our father, has sold us—has devoured also our money—whatever God has taken from our father is ours and our children's." "Now then, whatsoever God hath said unto thee, do." This is worse than washday.

This is judgment day. Terrible when children must bring such charges against their father. Doubly terrible when a father has

SCMEBODY ALWAYS PAYS

Some people in Hondo learned the latter part of last week that the term "free-school" is a misnomer—that they must "pay" for what they get.
It took a raise in the taxable valuation of their property—the power to do so having been voted into the hands of the local school board at a bond election last fall—to awaken them to this fact, it would seem from the groans that have resulted from notices sent out by the board to that effect.

We have not seen the rolls but reports are that raises range from 20% up; some complaining of 100%, and there were whisperings of one at 1000%.

The Board of Equalization convened yesterday to receive any complaints that might be filed.

SHOWER TEA FOR MISS LEBOLD

A lovely courtesy extended Miss Jo Lebold, whose marriage to Mr.
F'll Wood of San Antonio takes place next week, was the shower tea from 3 to 6 o'clock Monday afternoon, June 12, at the home of Miss Thelma Lynch. Hostesses were Miss Lynch, Mrs. A. H. Schweers, Mrs. L.
C. Whitehead of San Antonio, Mrs.
Clyde Abbott and Miss Marybelle Embrey.

Shasta daisies and bluebells were the favorite blossoms, attractively arranged in white pottery bowls in the reception suite. Receiving in the living room were Miss Lynch, Miss Lebold, the honoree, and her mother, Mrs. O. L. Lebold. Miss Mildred Nance of San Antonio was in charge of the guest book. Greeting the guests in the gift rooms were Mrs.
Adolph Lutz and Mrs. Andrew Braden, sisters of the honoree, and Mrs.
Jim Lynch.

In the dining room, the lace-covered table was centered with daisies and bluebells in a white pottery ring which also held burning white candles. Refreshments were cake squares iced in pastel colors, mints and punch. Mrs. A. H. Schweers, Mrs. Clyde Abbott, and Mrs. L. C.
Whitehead and Mrs. Nat Nance of San Antonio alternated in serving.

Miss Lebold wore a pretty frock of white shadow printed crepe, made with draped bodice and fine tucks at the waist forming soft unpressed pleats in the skirt. Her corsage was salmon-colored gladioluses. Miss Lynch was in brown taffeta and her flowers were salmon-colored gladioluses. Navy blue sheer fashioned Mrs. Lebold's dress and salmon-colored gladioluses her corsage.

They were accompanied to San Marcos by their younger sister, Miss Kathleen Reily, a May graduate of Hondo High School, who is also attending the Teachers College for the summer term.

Willie Boehle was down from his ranch Wednesday and presented the editor with some nice roasting ears.
Mr. Boehle has some eight or ten acres in yellow corn that would make a fair crop if he could get a rain at once. This is something that few Medina County farmers can boast this year as most of the corn, where sufficient growth has developed, is being cut for ensilage or fodder. He attributes his success to new ground and a few timely showers of rain.
Mr. Boehle also has hay, melons, etc., that promise good yields with a little more timely rains. He was accompanied to the office by two of his children, Elmer and Viola.

Mr. Robert Kollman went to San Antonio Wednesday and brought back the new fire truck for the Hondo Fire Department. The truck is a 1-1-2 ton Chevrolet pick-up, with dual wheels for protection in turning corners. It is now at the Alfred Breiten auto shop where it is being equipped with fire-fighting apparatus. This includes a pump attached to the front of the truck, a large water storage tank in the bed of the truck, a siren and other necessary equipment. The paint job is bright red with gold letterings, "Hondo Fire Department, No. 3". Funds are still being solicited, this week the committee being headed by R. J. Reily.
If you haven't been solicited and wish to donate towards the purchase of the truck, you may turn in your contributions at the bank, to Mr.

R. E. A. WORK PROGRESSING.

Mr. H. T. Bardin, superintendent of the Medina Electric Co-operative, Inc., was a caller at this office Wednesday and informed our reporter that P. E. Workman, contractor for construction of lines on the rural electrification project in Medina County, has been ordered to start construction at once. Mr. Pogue, the contractor's supervisor, is in town making arrangements for building and storage.

Material for 75 miles of line has been ordered and is due within the next two weeks. Actual construction should start soon after the material arrives.
Approximately 25 homes have been wired already. Mr. Wagoner, the wiring inspector, intends to start his inspections Monday. Mr. Bardin, therefore, urges the patrons to wire as soon as possible. We understand that those who delay wiring will be required to pay an additional amount on the regular fee for inspection.
Meetings have been held in the Southeast part of the County in the interest of extending the electric service to that section. Mr. Bardin says that the "B" project, as it is called to distinguish from the project in this district, around Natalia, Devine and LaCoste is progressing rapidly, and urges the people there to sign their applications as soon as possible.

KOCH-HORN

A pretty wedding solemnized at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, June 14, 1939, in St. Ann's Catholic Church of San Antonio was that which united Miss Hermene Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horn of San Antonio, and Herbert Koch, son of Mr. Ed. Koch of D'Hanis. The church was decorated with daisies, other white blossoms and fern. The traditional bridal music was played for the processional and the recesssional, and a Nuptial High Mass was read.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white satin, the bodice fashioned with a lace yoke. A long veil of bridal illusion, forming a train, was held at each side of the head with a tiara of seed pearls. Her only ornament was a cameo pin, the gift of the bridegroom. Her colonial bouquet was formed of white flowers.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Clara May Horn. Her frocks were made of blue net, the neckline and the wide ruffle at the bottom of the skirt outlined with pink ribbon. Her crownless poke bonnet was of shirred net to match her dress, and her flowers were pink and blue gladioluses. Misses Donna Mae and Margaret Patterson were the bridesmaids and their dresses were identical to the maid of honor's except the colors were yellow trimmed with blue ribbons and peach, with blue ribbon trim. Their hats matched their dresses and they carried sheaves of pink and blue gladioluses.
Flower girls were Misses of the bridegroom, Jo Ann Koch of Hondo and Mary Louise Bende of Dun-lay. Their quaint long dresses were of pink net styled like those of the bridesmaids, and they carried bouquets of daisies.

Joseph Koch of D'Hanis served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Marshal Koch of San Antonio and Marvin Koch of Hondo, cousins of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Blanco Road. Refreshments were served al fresco and consisted of sandwiches, cake and punch. The bride's cake was three-tiered, iced in white and embossed with pink and white flowers. Around the base of the cake were pink and white lilies.

After a brief motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Koch will be at home in San Antonio, where Mr. Koch is employed by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

Among those who attended the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vogel, Mr. and Mrs.
Herman Koch and daughter, Lorine, and son, Marvin, Mr. and Mrs.
George Koch and little daughter, Jo Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Guenther Koch and little son, Jerry, Mrs. Mary Koch, the bridegroom's grandmother, all of Hondo; Mr. Ed Koch and sons, Joseph and Edward, Mr. and Mrs.
Richard Carle and children, Mrs.
Frank Kimmerly and daughter, Mathilda, and Mrs. Henry Franger, of D'Hanis, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ben-de and little daughter, Mary Louise of Dunlay.

GOOD NEWS IN THE PAPER.

Not all the news in this paper is bad news. Accidents and deaths take a deplorably large part of it. Drouth and taxation could take a lot more than it does. But why dwell on the deplorable. Turn to the happier things.

On the center pages of this paper thrift-wise readers will find a display of money-saving offerings that if wisely used will save them many times the price they pay for their paper.

Mr. James of the Green Tag Store has indeed "blasted" his profits off of his offerings and awaits only your presence in his store to distribute them far and wide among the people of this entire area. Forget your TAXES a while; concentrate on thrift-wise purchases for your needed things; and buy while the opportunity is here.

Think of such offerings as two pretty dresses for the price of one—plus a penny!

TIMELY NEWS FOR THE OR- CHARD AND GARDEN PEOPLE.

According to: J. F. Rosborough, Extension Horticulturist

NOW IS THE TIME TO:

Repair Damage Done By Hail.
Pruning off damaged growth should not be done until new sprouts have begun to come out on the branches.
At that time it is easier to determine the proper place to make the cuts.
You can, however, cover the peeled branches with orange shellac where the foliage, twigs and top part of the branches have been damaged.
The material can be applied with an ordinary paint brush. Shellac dries quickly and seals the damaged area, thereby preventing a loss of sap and allowing quick healing to take place.
Where large portions of the hard wood are exposed, the surface should be covered with asphaltum paint, after the bark has begun to heal.
This usually requires three to four weeks. Trees suffering from hail damage should be watered throughout the summer wherever possible to encourage the development of foliage.

Bud Peach Trees. Budwood can be cut from the new growth appearing between now and June 1 to 15.
It may be cut, packed in damp shavings and held in cold storage at a temperature of 34 to 40 degrees F. for two to three weeks until ready to be used. For budding peaches, plums and other fruits where T budding is employed, rubber bands for tying in the buds are preferable to paraffine strips. Rubber bands rot off in 10 to 12 days, making it unnecessary to cut the bands. In patch budding pecan trees you will find the use of paraffine cloth strips 1/4 inch wide and 12 to 16 inches long very helpful. Domestic cloth is dipped into hot paraffine (not boiling) and saturated. Make a convenient roll of the cloth so that strips 12 to 16 inches in length can be torn off with which to tie in the buds. Cloth strips do not cut in the bark and will enable the budler to increase his speed.

Fight insects and diseases. Peach and plum trees need to be sprayed now with lime sulphur to prevent brown rot, scab and leaf spot. One and one-half pounds of lead arsenate may also be included in the spray.
You can buy the lime sulphur and mix 7 lbs. with 50 gals. of water—enough for 15 to 20 trees—at a cost of about 5 to 10 cents per tree.
Isn't this a cheap price to pay for good fruit?

Grapes and figs should be sprayed with a 4-4-50 bordeaux mixture to control brown rot on grapes and fig rust. This spray is also used on grapes to control mildew, leaf folders, leaf hoppers, and aphids. For fig rust, continue spraying at 30-day intervals until September.

Pecans need a second spraying of lead arsenate spray for the control of pecan nut case bearer, using 3 pounds of lead arsenate to 50 gals. of water. If pecan trees are affected by rosette, zinc sulphate may be added in combination with the lead arsenate spray, using 1 lb. of zinc to 50 gals. spray solution.

In The Garden

Store Onions. Those onions that are bottle-necks, splits and doubles should be separated from those to be placed in long time storage because they are more subject to decay.
These culled onions should be used first. The Sweet Spanish and Australian Brown onions are more suitable for storage than Yellow or White Bermudas. Adequate ventilation and a location where there is little light is essential. Light will cause the onions to turn green, while a lack of ventilation will hasten decay.

Harvest Potatoes. Don't be too hasty. Irish potatoes are not ready for digging until the skin has be-

CHRISTILLES-WARREN

Simplicity marked the wedding Wednesday morning at 7:30 of Mrs. Anna Rihn Warren, daughter of Lawrence Rihn, and Ray Christilles of Waco, which took place in St. Louis Catholic Church with Very Rev. Dean J. Lenzen, pastor of the church, officiating.

To the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, played on the organ by Alfred Schmitt of Rio Medina, the bride party entered the church. Mrs. A. A. Christilles and daughter, Mrs. Albert Pauley, of San Antonio, accompanied by Alfred Schmitt at the organ, sang Bach-Gounod's "Ave Maria" at the Offertory.

Shasta daisies and pink roses filled the altar vases and were arranged in tall vases at either side of the high altar. Large wrought-iron candelabra held white cathedral tapers.

The bride was attractive in silk navy blue suit with white silk blouse and navy blue turban and shoes. Her corsage was of pink delphiniums.

Her cousin, Miss Theresa Rihn, of San Antonio was her only attendant. She wore a dark old rose frock, large navy blue picture hat with streamers, and navy blue sandals. Her corsage was of blue delphiniums.

The bridegroom and his best man, Ervin Conrad, wore navy blue suits. A breakfast was served immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's father to members of the wedding party.

After receiving well-wishes from their many relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Christilles left for their parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Christilles, in Waco, where a reception was tendered the couple. In the evening they left for a brief visit to his brother, Hubert Christilles, in Houston. From Houston, the couple left on their honeymoon which will include the San Francisco World's Fair and other points of interest. They will make their home in Waco where the bridegroom is employed by the Railroad Company.

ZION'S LUTHERAN CHURCH Sunday, June 18, 1939

8:30 A. M. Sunday school and Bible classes.

9:30 A. M. English service. Church attendance is more than a duty. It is a privilege. For there the Almighty God condescends to commune with sinful men, to offer them the divine forgiveness wrought by His Son on Calvary to counsel and strengthen them for the coming week's journey and to accept their sacrifices of thanksgiving in His service. Therefore, when the Christian hears the church bells ring, he rejoices with the Psalmist: "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go unto the House of the Lord."

Zion's Lutheran Church of Castroville cordially invites you to attend our service next Sunday.

All chairmen of the 4th of July celebration are kindly asked to meet in the Fuos building Monday night at 8:30 o'clock on June 19th.

The Church with a welcome. A. H. FALKENBERG, Pastor.

By terracing his land, C. C. Godden, in Medina county, produced 1,900 bushels of corn on 75 acres of hillside land, 20 bushels per acre more than he had ever made on the same land in the past.

MRS. JOE F. BADER DEAD.

After many weary months of decline and suffering, death came to Mrs. Joe F. Bader at 11 o'clock, Friday night, June 9, 1939. Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at St. John's Catholic church and interment was made in the Catholic section of Oakwood cemetery, beside her late husband who preceded her in death by several months. Her pastor, Rev. Father Paul Potgens, conducted the services. Arrangements were in charge of the Horger funeral directors and the pallbearers were: Arthur H. Rothe, L. E. Heath, C. J. Schuehle, Ben Koch, Frank X. Vance and Robert Rihn.

Mary Katherine Schmitt was born in San Antonio on July 4, 1860. She had, therefore, attained the age of 78 years 11 months and 5 days at the time of her demise.

She was happily married to the late Joe F. Bader on September 17, 1878, in Castroville. Nine living children are left to mourn the passing of a beloved and respected mother. They are: Mesdames Alice Bertreier and S. A. Jungman of Hondo, Martin Zimmermann of San Antonio, Charles B. Brown of Los Angeles, Texas, Leo Schweers of Del Rio and Geo. B. Noonan of Dunlay, and three sons, James E. Bader of Brackett and Oscar J. Bader and Alfred A. Bader both of Hondo. There are twenty-two grand-children and four great-grand-children.

One own sister, Mrs. Theresa Burkhardt of Piedras Negras; two half-sisters, Mesdames Julius Herman and Joe Balmos, both of San Antonio; three half-brothers, Joe and Adolph Holzhaus, both of San Antonio, and Arthur Holzhaus of Castroville, also survive their sister.

Though afflicted most of her life, Mrs. Bader lived long and actively. She saw her husband serve his country for many years as sheriff, a son, Oscar J. has been County Treasurer for a number of years, another son, Alfred A., is Commissioner for Precinct one of Medina County, and two of her daughters, Mesdames Bertreier and Schweers are trained nurses, the former one of the proprietors of the Medina Hospital. The other children are all comfortably settled in life and she could look back upon the toilsome journey of life with the satisfaction of having finished her work well. Such a mother will be sincerely mourned.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR CRASH VICTIM HELD.

Funeral services for Roy Koch of Hondo, one of the victims of the tragic truck accident Tuesday afternoon, were conducted at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, June 15. A brief service was held at the Horger funeral chapel followed by a Requiem High Mass in St. John the Evangelist's Catholic Church, with the pastor, Rev. Paul J. Potgens officiating. A large cortege of relatives and friends followed the remains to their last resting place in the Catholic Cemetery of Hondo. Pallbearers were Roy Schweers, W. E. Pichot, Marvin Koch, Olen Koch, Billy Giano and Tommy Koch.

Roy was born June 19, 1917, in Hondo, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koch, and had he lived would have been 22 years old next Monday, June 19th. He attended St. John's Parochial School of Hondo, and has worked at various jobs over Medina County. At the time of his untimely death he was employed as a gravel truck driver on the highway construction work now in progress between D'Hanis and Sabinal.

Survivors are his bereaved parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koch of Hondo; three sisters, Mrs. Milton Highsmith of D'Hanis, and Misses Gertrude and Katherine Koch of Hondo; four brothers, Floyd, C. J., Charlie, and Donnie, all of Hondo; his grandfather, Mr. John Koch of Hondo, and a large number of relatives and friends who are shocked and deeply grieved by his passing.

MEAT COOKERY, YESTERDAY AND TODAY

By RUTH J. COOPER, Home Economics Consultant, Breeder-Feeder Association

The meat roast of yesterday was often quite dry and tasteless. That of today is juicy, tasty and has several more slices than the other roast. It is less trouble to prepare, has a superior flavor, and besides going farther, saves time and fuel in the bargain. Yes, today's roasting methods are truly revolutionary.

The roast of yesterday was salted, preferably overnight, so as to "take the salt". It was then rolled in flour, generously, and seared at a high temperature either in a very hot oven or over flame. This process was thought to retain the meat juices. Today, we know that seasonings do not penetrate very far and they do draw out the juices. It makes very little difference when the roast is salted, so it is generally salted at the beginning so as not to forget it. This may draw out some of the juices but they go into the gravy so this point is immaterial. This modern roast is not floured because the flour is more liable to burn and the black flecks are not very appetizing in the gravy. If a rich, brown gravy is desired, it is a simple matter to brown the flour in the fat later.

At this point a decision must be made. What is the result to be? Is the roast to have a crusty, brown surface or the same color throughout the meat? If the crusty, brown surface is desired, the meat is seared in a pre-heated 500 degrees F. oven about twenty minutes and then roasted in a slow (300 degrees F.) oven for the balance of the time. If same color throughout is desired, meat is cooked in a slow oven for the entire period of time. This searing process is for appearance only. The searing does not retain the juices and if the high temperatures are continued too long, the roast becomes dry and tasteless.

The change in pan styles is significant. Yesterday the pan was of the double variety and quite expensive. Today the pan is shallow and has no lid. It is inexpensive and often does double duty, sharing the honors with biscuits. Formerly the roast was placed in the roaster, enough water added to start the steam and often roast frequently basted until done. This method was not roasting in the true sense of the term. Today the roast is placed in the shallow roaster fat side up. This roast is not basted as the melting fat does its own basting much more effectively.

Meat thermometers are available at household furnishing and hardware stores. They are not essential but do take the guess work out of roasting. Insert the thermometer bulb in the center of the meat muscle, being careful not to touch bone nor fat; roast the meat until the thermometer registers the required internal temperature—rare, medium or well-done. This is approximately thirty minutes per pound for a well-done roast.

While longer cooking time must be allowed for this low temperature of roasting, superior results are assured. Regardless of type of stove or fuel, lower oven temperatures produce tastier roasts.

By metric measure, Capitol Hill and the White House are only about a mile apart. Put if the distance could be measured now on the basis of policies and aims, it would show them to be poles apart.

Differences are being smoothed over in spots and the wide breach is being kept out of the headlines as much as possible, but keen observers detect a bitter conflict.

Here are a few of the major issues on which the administration and the Congress have collided head-on:
1. Taxes: Congress wants to remove some of the burdensome tax and thus stimulate recovery by permitting a more natural flow by spiral. The White House (until a compromise was worked out) was set against any change, arguing that taxes must be left alone to finance the government spending program.

2. Foreign Affairs and Neutrality: Congress wants to maintain a hands-off policy in foreign troubles and to retain some responsibility and control over foreign policy. The administration wants to centralize this authority in the hands of the President.

3. Labor Act: The Congressmen want to satisfy the public clamor for amendment of the National Labor Relations Act, but the New Deal administration are determined to leave the present law on the books without change.

4. Spending: Congress really wants to curtail spending, but the White House group thinks spending must be continued. The White House is unwilling to concede that spending has failed to produce desired results, arguing that recovery is in sight and can be reached with a continuance of the spending program.

As observers see the struggle from the side-lines, Congressional thought being propelled by Mr. Average Citizen (who is paying the bill).
—WSS—

Incidental to this situation was an unpublicized Saturday night stag-ger in Washington. The party was led by a potent Administration reporter recently appointed to one of the top-rung Washington jobs.
The guest list was made up of all the new New Dealers.

According to reports, purpose of the party was to lay the groundwork for a systematic campaign to head off the conservative trend of Congress. When the campaign gets underway more third-term talk may be heard, as that is part of the program to stop the Garner movement.

There was more behind the White House dinner-conference with business leaders than was contained in the official explanation offered the press.

Many things were discussed, but the whole affair was carefully staged for a single purpose (which was not told to the newspapermen). That purpose was to head off amendment of the National Labor Relations Act to forestall an investigation of the Labor Board by Congress. It was a move to reconcile business to an attempted adjustment of the labor act problem through administrative changes rather than a revision of the law.

In other words, those who planned the conference believe that if business can be "appeased" with promises there will be no need for Congress to go ahead with its plan for repeal by action.

Word comes from London that the British government has been testing the newest wrinkle in bombproofing by placing goats inside and dropping shells on the structures. The news led one local wit to remark that, whenever anything is in the legislative or taxation turn in this country, the technicians employed a similar technique and simply used business men as scapegoats.

PLAINLY IN THE RECORD

Often enough it is said that government competition with private business is standing in the way of jobs, new payrolls, and the expanding industrial activity that means real recovery. Similarly, it is pointed out that uncertainty concerning future actions of government affecting industry is also contributing to this same slowing-up process.

Now it is beginning to become increasingly clear that the two factors are interrelated. This is the way it is: Individuals, afraid to put their money into business enterprises, are withdrawing the funds with banks or

AUSTIN, June 10.—Texas taxpayers were closer this week-end to having a 2 percent sales tax submitted to the voters as a constitutional amendment than they have been at any time this session. The sales tax constitutional amendment, called up last week for what many had believed to be a final test in the House of Representatives, fell nine votes short, and went down to its fifth House defeat, 91 to 56. But the gain registered by proponents of the measure, sponsored by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, and backed by a heavy majority of the special interest lobby, was encouraging enough to induce them to lay plans for still another test in the House, due for this week.

The division is so close that no man can say for certain how it will come out. The head of the special interest lobby, who has been directing the unprecedented pressure drive for many, many weeks, professed confidence that the necessary nine votes would be picked up on the next test. It seems reasonably certain that the next test will be the last one. The Legislature is about ready now to pass the appropriation bills and go home. If the sales tax amendment is adopted, there will be no need for remaining longer in session.
If it fails again, it is probably that a majority of the House see no chance of enacting tax legislation at this session and will be just as ready to go home. The Senate has definitely indicated, by its arrogant refusal to consider statutory tax measures, that it is committed to a policy of the sales tax frozen into the Constitution, or nothing. House members point to their record of having passed two statutory tax bills, both killed summarily by the Senate, as a sufficient alibi, if no pension-paying revenue is enacted. Leaders of the anti-sales tax bloc in the House declare their ranks will hold on to the next test, as they have on previous ones.

House Resents Pressure

The House which has blocked the sales tax thus far, showed its resentment at the continued and tremendous pressure to which it has been subjected, when it cast 99 votes in favor of a resolution by Bryan Bradbury, of Abilene, called for a joint House-Senate investigation of the lobbying for the sales tax. The Senate, which wants no undue publicity upon the interests which are backing the stand which it and the Governor have taken in favor of the sales tax, quickly killed the resolution by pigeon-holing it in a committee.

Thompson Gets on Record

Political outcroppings on the sales tax issue, which will flare immediately when the time comes for opening next year's state campaigns, continued throughout the week. Col.
Ernest O. Thompson, Rail Commissioner and runner-up to W. Lee O'Daniel for governor last year, got on record with a statement condemning the freezing of a sales tax into the constitution. "Taxes ought to be statutory," Thompson said.
"And when folks begin to vote themselves bounties, it means trouble ahead. Almost everybody will vote himself something if he thinks he will come out ahead. About a year from now, I might have something to say about politics." Thompson is regarded as a certain candidate against O'Daniel and the sales tax issue will undoubtedly be the leading bone of contention in the race.

Meanwhile, an incipient gubernatorial boom was reported by the political gossips for Joe Hill, Senator from Henderson. Hill has been the strongest opponent in the Senate of the sales tax program, and he had denounced O'Daniel from the Senate floor on numerous occasions, with a bitterness seldom heard in that forum.

Other political rumors were heard this week to the effect that O'Daniel, if the Federal government should cut off grants to Texas pensioners, under the liberalized pension law, might take the field against U. S.
Senator Tom Connally, up for re-election next year. Maury Maverick, the extremist New Deal ex-congressman, recently elected Mayor of San Antonio, was also rumored as a possible opponent for Connally. Maverick has been making anti-Garner insurance companies. And these organizations in their turn, seeing that regulatory laws and high taxes are crippling business today, are putting the money into government instead of business securities. They see no alternative.

Recently, bidding for government securities has grown so active that, in a few cases, in the words of the New York Times, "the banks which loaned the money actually paid the Treasury for the privilege of lending it."

Why, the reader may well ask, does this trend continue?

Simply because the only choice is between government bonds and private investment—and the latter, in the face of adverse taxes and legislation and the threat of "more of the same", appears even less attractive.

As one observer comments, the situation "indicates complete confidence in a continued lack of business confidence."

Do government competition and experimentation stand in the way of private investment, the kind of investment that means jobs and pay-rolls and better times for all Americans?

The answer seems to be pretty plainly written in the record!

speeches for several weeks.

Loan Shark Decision

The State of Texas is without power to restrain loan sharks from charging usurious interest by injunction, the Supreme Court, in an opinion written by Justice Richard Critz held last week. Attorney General Mann, who joined the injunction suit brought by County officials in Travis county against 19 Austin loan concerns, declared the only relief now is action by the Legislature. Mann, however, held recently in an opinion, that a bill proposed by Mason Harrell and others, designed to legalize reasonable interest and service charges for small loans, intended to curb 400 percent loan sharks, was unconstitutional. So it seems the loan sharks will continue to operate unmolested in Texas for another two years, at least.

Road Bond Bill Passes

The Senate finally passed the road bond assumption bill, but it was a far different measure from the monstrosity originally sponsored by the Texas County Judges Association, which sought to put the State's guarantee behind nearly $200,000,000 of "dead horse" county lateral road bonds. The Senate amended and adopted the Tarwater house substitute, which distributes the surplus in the bond retirement fund to counties, but on a formula involving road mileage, population, motor car licenses and area, rather than on the basis of the amount of bond debt owed. Since the bill seeks to put the State's credit behind lateral road bonds, with which the State has no concern, many legal authorities believe it is unconstitutional, and it is regarded as virtually certain to face a court test, as soon as it is finally enacted, through acceptance by the House of Senate amendments, or by adoption of a conference committee report.

There is no substitute for newspaper advertising.
